GULF STORM TAKES LIFE AND PROPERTY

Fisherman Swims Ashore on Galiano Island, Dragging Body of Man After Two Boats Are Wrecked—Another Craft Ashore on Chatham Island—Frost Causes Damage

Blizzards on Prairies Are Disrupting Highway Traffic

STORMS in the Gulf of Georgia yesterday morning claimed the life of one fisherman and wrecked three small boats, two of which were a complete loss. Charles A. Dominy, of Seattle, escaped drowning after a harrowing experience. He reported the death of another unnamed fisherman, in the raging waters off the north end of Galiano Island. Provincial Police, in their investigations, failed to find the body.

In a dazed condition, Mr. Dominy wandered to a gas station at Portler Pass, North Galiano Island, yesterday about noon. From there he was taken to the home of John McCrackie and then to Retreat Cove where he was picked up by Corporal D. O. Tweedhope, in the Provincial Police launch No. 6.

Exhausted, and suffering from exposure for hours in the frigid weather that rode on the wings of one of the worst gales experienced in the Gulf this fall, Mr. Dominy, aboard the launch, told some of the details of the tragedy.

DEVELOPS ENGINE TROUBLE
Provincial Police reported Dominy said he left Vancouver for Seattle in his speedboat, the Ranger, Monday afternoon, and was accompanied by another, whose name was not ascertained, in a second small boat. Mr. Dominy gave officers to understand the other boat developed engine trouble and he took the craft in tow and made for Retreat Cove.

SNOW BLOCKING COMMUNICATION

Fourteen-Foot Drifts on Roads to Calgary—Frost Disrupts Railway

CALGARY, Oct. 29 (P)—Highway communications to several southern Alberta towns were cut off tonight as snowstorms struck with renewed vigor in separated districts, sweeping up drifts as high as fourteen feet. Snow had ceased falling at Calgary, where the mercury hovered around the zero mark.

Calgary street railway officials estimated it would cost $35,000 to repair damage caused to lines by freezing water. The whole railway system was disrupted and nine cars were derailed as the sudden cold froze water and heaved rails.

FIGHTS THROUGH DRIFTS
An ambulance fought through drifts and around stalled automobiles and trucks from Calgary to Strathmore, twenty-five miles east, to bring a seriously ill woman to hospital in Calgary. Her husband, W. H. McKeevor, had walked through bitter cold to put in a call for aid.

Drumheller, Gleichen, Brooks and Bassano were known to be isolated by drifted roads by the twelve-mile stretch by the Yukon and Northern British Columbia, and decided cold weather is becoming general throughout this province and eastward to Manitoba.

SNOWFLOUGH MAROONED
A snowplough was marooned on the latter stretch by the twelve-mile stretch by the Yukon and Northern British Columbia, and decided cold weather is becoming general throughout this province and eastward to Manitoba.

Yesterday, Victoria had two degrees of frost, with the highest temperature being thirty-six degrees. Los Angeles and San Francisco, which a few days ago were experiencing intensely hot weather with temperatures ranging as high as eighty-eight degrees, are now feeling the effects of the cold wave that is moving down from the north.

VINCENT MASSEY TO GO TO LONDON

Prime Minister Intimates Former Minister to Succeed Hon. G. H. Ferguson in Due Course

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (P)—An intimation that Hon. Vincent Massey, former Canadian High Commissioner to London, would be reappointed to that post in the near future, was given tonight by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. Discussing reports that Mr. Massey would go to Washington as Canadian Minister for a short time pending conclusion of the Canada-United States trade agreement, Mr. King said this was erroneous. "An announcement with respect to Mr. Massey and the London office will be made in due course," Mr. King said, "but he will not go to Washington."

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner during the last five years, will remain at his post until the Government finds it convenient to accept his resignation.

IS DECLARED SEATED HERE

D. B. Plunkett Increases Majority to 1,023 on Official Count

D. B. Plunkett, Conservative candidate in Victoria Federal riding and member of the last House of Commons for the city, was declared elected yesterday at the close of the official count conducted by Sydney Reid, returning officer. Mr. Plunkett increased his majority from 991 to 1,023 at the final check-up.

The final standing of all four candidates was declared as follows: D. B. Plunkett, Conservative, 7,505; Prof. J. King Gordon, C.C.F., 6,482; C. J. McDowell, Liberal, 6,378; and P. E. George, Reconstructionist, 905. Rejected ballots numbered 315, bringing the total vote cast to 21,585, or nearly 80 per cent of the 28,829 eligible voters on the new Victoria rolls.

A statement of the poll result is being mailed to each of the four candidates and their agents. Mr. Child said, headed by the returning officer, electoral officials in the riding had to check and tabulate the vote from 138 polling booths located in 105 polling divisions scattered throughout the city. In addition there were the advance polls and the advance vote, which had been added in. The figures now given are complete and final.

COLD WAVE IS MOVING SOUTH
Victoria Still to Have Chilly Winds—Summer Temperatures Transformed

Continued cold weather will be Victoria's climatic apportionment for the next twenty-four hours, F. Napier Denison, director of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, announced last night. Coupled with the cold weather will be moderate to fresh northerly winds.

The barometer still remains abnormally high over the Yukon and Northern British Columbia, and decided cold weather is becoming general throughout this province and eastward to Manitoba.

Yesterday, Victoria had two degrees of frost, with the highest temperature being thirty-six degrees.

Programme to End Dole Ineffective
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (P)—An official summation showed today the United States Government, despite its programme to end the dole, has spent more for direct relief so far this year than it did during the same period of 1934.

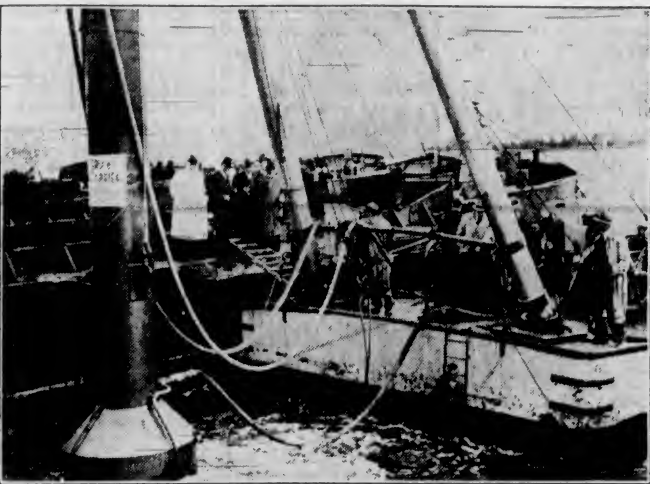

This year's relief grants were placed at $1,227,973,573, compared to $1,013,069,738 in the corresponding ten months of last year.

Devastating Flood Takes Many Lives in Honduras
TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Oct. 29 (P)—Hundreds of persons were precariously perched in treetops in imminent danger of death in what officials called the worst flood in the history of the country.

Bodies of seventy victims were recovered at Corozco today. Shattered communication lines prevented an accurate estimate of the total loss of life, but fears were expressed it would be much higher.

Torrential rains which followed upon a hurricane last week-end sent rivers in many parts of the country roaring over their banks to endanger life and property. Damage to fruit companies was estimated at $5,000,000 on the basis of incomplete reports.

To Hunt for Gold of Spanish Armada

A fresh "gold rush" for the treasures of the sea-bottom has been started by a syndicate formed in Holland, which hopes to raise bullion valued at many millions of dollars from the ships of the Spanish Armada which are lying on the bottom of the sea in the Bay of Tobermory, Scotland. Here is a picture of a small model of the new giant salvage apparatus invented by the Dutch engineer, W. van Wienen, which will be used during the salvage operations. This apparatus consists of a big tube giving entrance to a wide diving Bell.

Squadron of Flyers Routs Vast Army According to Report

Two Children Missing When Fire Rages Through City Block

VICTORIAVILLE, Que., Oct. 30 (P)—Two children were missing, twenty-one families left homeless and damage estimated at $75,000 caused here early today when fire raged through a large block in the centre of this Arthabaska County town.

The fire was still blazing at 1:45 a.m. when the entire block appeared doomed. It comprised two buildings owned by Arthur and Alphonse Tourigny. Walls of both buildings fell at 12:40 a.m. By that time families living over stores had been hastily evacuated, but two children were not accounted for. Frantic parents hoped the children had been taken into some home for shelter during the confusion which attended the hasty evacuation.

One Board Will Have Control of Canadian Ports

Federal Government Accepts Resignations of All Ocean Harbor Commissions and Announces Their Abolition—Control by Three at Ottawa Expected to Eliminate Wastefulness

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (P)—Control of Canada's ocean ports was centred in Ottawa by action taken by the Federal Government today. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Marine, announced that the resignations of the Harbor Commissions at Halifax, Saint John, Chicoutimi, Quebec, Three Rivers, Montreal and Vancouver had been accepted and a board of three departmental officers would perform their functions.

The move is along the lines of the report on Canadian harbors made by Sir Alexander Gibb in 1922. It is aimed at economy and better organization. Mr. Howe said the unsatisfactory conditions revealed in the Gibb report had become intensified since that time, and the Government had taken steps to remedy them so far as existing legislation permitted.

LEGISLATION PLANNED
At the next session of Parliament it is expected legislation will be introduced to give more complete effect to the Government's proposals. The board will be composed of H. E. A. Hawken, assistant deputy minister of marine; Colonel E. A. Dubuc, chief engineer, Department of Railways and Canals; and B. J. Roberts, assistant deputy minister of finance. They will receive no additional remuneration on account.

HELENA TREMORS TAKE FIFTH LIFE

Eleven More Earthquake Shocks Bring Total to 538 in Last Eighteen Days

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 29 (P)—Winter held quake-weary Helena in its grasp tonight as the earth continued to tremble and another death, the fifth, was attributed to the prolonged series of earthquakes.

The casualty list added to its roll of dead the name of Mrs. Lenora Jones, an invalid, as bleak winds whipped over the Northern Rockies and lashed the shock-torn city with snow and a temperature of three degrees above zero.

Eleven slight movements have been recorded since midnight, but none brought apprehension. Since October 12, 538 tremors of varying intensity have been registered.

Lost Spare Tire But Not His Life
OKMULGEE, Okla., Oct. 29 (P)—Mike Switzer beat death by the width of a spare tire. His car rolled across a railroad crossing with a train right on top of it. All it got was the spare tire—clipped off, clean as a whistle.

ECONOMIC SANCTIONS TO BE APPLIED BY DOMINION

Canadian Government Acquiesces in Proposals of Co-ordinating Committee of League of Nations—Prime Minister Declares No Commitment Binding Canada to Military Sanctions

Not Establishing Precedent For Possible Future Action

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (P)—Immediate steps will be taken by the Canadian Government to secure the effective application of economic sanctions against Italy," proposed by the co-ordinating committee of the League of Nations, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced tonight.

Five proposals were made to the Canadian Government by the co-ordinating committee of the League of Nations. They were as follows:

1. Prohibition of export of arms to Italy.
2. Prohibition of loans and credits to Italy.
3. Prohibition of all imports from Italy.
4. Prohibition of export to Italy of certain key products, useful for military operations.
5. Provision for mutual commercial support in contingencies arising out of the application of economic sanctions.

IMMEDIATE ACTION

The Government has agreed to take immediate action to comply with the first two. With reference to the third, the reply was that "the Canadian Government will be prepared to join in the prohibition of imports from Italy. Measures are under consideration for effective restriction of imports, and if further legislation is found necessary to make embargo complete, proposals will be submitted to Parliament."

Replying to the fourth proposal the Government stated it would be "prepared to join in prohibition of export to Italy of commodities listed in the proposal," and that "prohibition could be put into effect at an agreed early date in November."

JAPANESE TO SHOW POWER

Will Start Army Manoeuvres Along Peiping-Tientsin Railway Soon

TIENSIN, China, Oct. 29 (P)—Japanese soldiers will begin sham battles along the Peiping-Tientsin Railway soon, it was announced tonight as Chinese officials studied Japan's demands for elimination of anti-Japanese elements in North China.

An emergency session of the Peiping Military Council was called early on Wednesday to consider the Japanese demands. Nearly every important North China political leader was present, and they were represented as being surprised by the Japanese action.

MANY DEMONSTRATIONS
The announcement of the plan for autumn army manoeuvres followed upon frequent recent demonstrations of Japanese military power, with repeated visits of Japanese detachments to this Chinese city. North China officials discussed the note delivered by Japanese Consul-General S. Kawagoe, which said Japan felt China had not fully complied with terms of an agreement of last June which followed upon a series of Sino-Japanese incidents. Japan charged that blue-shirts of the Chinese Nationalist Party were still active in North China.

An official spokesman at Nanking said only Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the Nationalist Government, could decide whether China would resist the Japanese ultimatum.

FORTIFYING NANKING
Nanking, however, was being steadily fortified, with troops marching in and guns being placed on the hills overlooking the city. The process has been going on for some time.

(The protest made at Tientsin was not repeated in either verbal or written form at Nanking.) Commenting on the Japanese note, Governor Shang Chen, at Tientsin, said, "I do not foresee any difficulties. I intend to suppress all action disturbing international relations."

Aviators Arrive Safely in France
PARIS, Oct. 29 (P)—Harold Farquhar, British diplomat-flyer, and Fritz Beller, German aviator, landed at Le Bourget field today, after a flight from Mexico City by way of Asia and Africa.

Individual Citizens Of Edmonton More Friendly Than City

Bill Brockett, Victim of Bumbledom, No Respector of Letter of Law in Emergency, Gets Creature Comforts in Jail

EDMONTON, Oct. 29 (P)—Folks were kind to Bill Brockett, boss garageman, who went to jail for a principle, and today he is ready to go behind the bars again if he finds it necessary to serve a motorist with gasoline in an emergency.

Bill spent two days in jail when he refused to pay a $5 fine for selling gas after hours, a violation of a city by-law. It is against the civic law to sell gas after 8 p.m. and Brockett sold a tank full to a doctor rushing to a maternity case in the country and a truckman, who had a perishable cargo.

"I'll do it again, too," said the garageman. "It's the garageman who turns down a doctor—or a motorist without gas who should go to jail."

WELL LOOKED AFTER
During his jail term, citizens who admired Bill's stand looked after him. A woman brought him a duck dinner at noon; from a local hotel he received a turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, at night, and two medical men, who had been the garageman, who turns down a doctor—or a

TO MAKE TESTS OF LEGISLATION

Supreme Court of Canada To Rule on Validity of Social Statutes

OTTAWA, Oct. 29 (P)—Social legislation passed at the last session of Parliament will be submitted to the Supreme Court of Canada for a decision as to its constitutional validity. Prime Minister Mackenzie King stated tonight. An effort will be made to have the court's decision on these matters ready for presentation to the Dominion-Provincial Conference which Mr. King hopes to have late in November.

Mr. King did not give any detail as to the particular statutes to be submitted to the Supreme Court, but it is assumed they will include those dealing with the minimum wage, minimum hours of labor, one day of rest in seven and the Unemployment Insurance Act, most of which, while supported by the opposition, were challenged by them on constitutional grounds.

ON TRADE MATTERS
Mr. King also stated tonight that Cabinet Council was busily engaged on the question of resumed negotiations with the United States for a reciprocal trade treaty, and the trade dispute between Canada and Japan.

Had it not been for the general election in Great Britain, Mr. King said, he would have taken up first of all the question of trade relations between the United Kingdom and Canada. These discussions, however, would be delayed until a new government had been decided upon in Great Britain.

MANY INJURED IN STREET CAR RIDE

Fifty Passengers on Los Angeles Tram Thrown in Panic by Sudden Flames

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29 (P)—Flames bursting from a control box on a Los Angeles railway street car at Main and Fifth Streets, late today seared or injured thirty persons and caused a panic among the fifty passengers.

Fire erupted past the motorman into a group of passengers on the front end of the street car, setting their clothing afire. Police and firemen said they believed the blaze erupted from a short circuit in the control box.

All of the injured are residents of the Los Angeles area.

Victoria Petition Gives Government Pause as to Means

Moderation League Sounded Out on Possibility Of Beer Plebiscite Only Here—Negotiations Actively Under Way With City Members

ACTIVE negotiations were under way yesterday between the Government and the Victoria Moderation League over the request by petition of the latter for modification of the Liquor Act to permit sale of beer and light wines in hotels and restaurants.

Major development in these negotiations was reported to be the sounding out of the league as to what its reaction would be to a plebiscite in Victoria dealing with beer only. The league is understood to have replied that it would accept such a plebiscite as part of its submissions, but not as a complete answer to its requests.

REQUESTS MADE

The petition lodged with the Government several weeks ago submitted first that the Province had existing authority to license hotels and restaurants for the sale of beer and wines, and could expand this authority by addition of Quebec clauses to the British Columbia Liquor Act at the next session. Alternatively, it was submitted that the Government could by plebiscite put any question it liked to the people, either here or in the province as a whole.

The issue was before the Cabinet again yesterday. Premier Pattullo announced after the meeting that negotiations were under way and that the matter would be decided in due course.

MEMBERS SOUNDED

Meanwhile, it is reliably understood, the Cabinet has asked Victoria members on the Government side of the Legislature for their opinion on the question, and may continue negotiations through this source.

There appeared little reason to believe that the Government would act to bring in beer and wine with existing legislation, or that the issue would be put to a Legislature that has twice balked at dealing with it in caucus discussions.

What is being unofficially anticipated is that the Government will itself act to put a plebiscite in one form or another, though perhaps not immediately. What was decided was whether the reference would be province-wide or confined to Victoria, whence the petition originated.

QUESTION OF METHOD
Premier Pattullo and some other members of the Government are already on record as in favor of the principle of legalized sale of beer and light wines in eating establishments. The question of method seemed to be the delaying factor in Cabinet approaches to the question so far.

Further conference between officials of the league and the Province is said to be slated for today.

NEW CONFUSION IN DOCK DISPUTE

Judge Refuses to Act as Arbitrator Between Seamen and Employers—Tieup Feared

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29 (AP).—Already-strained relations between seamen and shippers were thrown into new confusion here tonight, when Judge William Denman of the Ninth United States Court of Appeals flatly refused to act as arbitrator in the current dispute between the men and their employers.

Meanwhile, spokesmen for the ship operators expressed belief that another "hot cargo" controversy may flare up with the expected arrival at San Pedro on Saturday of freight from strike-bound Gulf of Mexico ports.

GULF STORM TAKES LIFE AND PROPERTY

As they were entering Portler Pass, heavy seas and high winds drove them on to the rocks on the north shore of Galiano Island. The occupants of the second boat were drowned, but Mr. Dominy stated, he dragged the body ashore.

Mr. Dominy was eared for aboard the police launch which conveyed him to Chemainus, and it is probable he will be brought to Victoria today and report to the American consul here.

A great quantity of driftwood lies along the shore where the boats were thrown, but police were unable to sight either craft. They believe both boats were splintered to bits, but a further search will be conducted today.

ON CHATHAM ISLAND

The third fishing boat to be wrecked by the raging seas off Ten Mile Point was the thirty-foot fishing trawler, Mae West, which was for several months moored in the Inner Harbor. The craft was sighted a mile and a half north of Ten Mile Point, shortly before noon yesterday, and within a few hours it had been driven by the strong north wind and waves up on the beach at Chatham Island.

When P. Rowe, Gordon Head, first sighted the boat, he said he saw only its prow above water, apparently being held up by air tanks under the forward deck. He thought he saw two white figures aboard and peered through binoculars. After sending a report to Provincial Police, he resumed his watch, but could not distinguish any persons aboard.

SEARCH FOR BOAT

Braving the heavy seas, the fisheries patrol Givensy went to the scene, as did the tug Planet from the Island Tug & Barge Company wharf, and Provincial Police Constable G. Davis, aboard the Mandalay B. Arthur Beeching's forty-eight-foot power yacht.

After Underground Strike

Despite the fact that they had engaged in a five-day staydown strike deep in the pits, in which much hand-to-hand fighting took place, these miners of Glamorgan, Wales, resume their debonair attitude upon coming to the surface. Police are escorting them home. They came from the Taff Merthyr pit, in which men of the South Wales Miners' Federation came to blows with the members of the South Wales Miners' Industrial Union.

Captain Donald Miller, of the Planet, reported last night that no persons were aboard the Mae West when he arrived. Despite the heavy weather, Captain Miller lowered a lifeboat and sent it close to the fishing boat as it lay in shallow waters on Chatham Island beach. Little or no damage had apparently been done to the hull, he said.

Captain Miller said there was a possibility that the boat had broken away from its moorings, somewhere along the Coast and carried no passengers.

CROPS ARE DAMAGED
VANCOUVER, Oct. 29 (AP).—British Columbia suffered today under the first blasts of winter as severe frosts damaged fruit crops in the Okanagan and Fraser valleys, and heavy rains disrupted rail and highway communications in the North.

Vancouver reported the coldest October day in sixteen years when the mercury dropped to 29 degrees. The last lower temperature was recorded on October 26, 1919, when the thermometer registered 26.9 degrees.

From 10 to 12 degrees of frost were reported in the Fraser Valley, with extensive loss in vegetable crops still in the ground. Apples on trees in full leaf, in some orchards, were found frozen.

In the Okanagan, thousands of boxes of unpecked apples were frozen to the core with 20 degrees of frost reported in some orchards. Picking operations were suspended, and while it was hoped much of the crop would be saved, the fruit stems were weakened and other deterioration caused. Two inches of snow fell overnight at Kelowna.

ROOT CROPS IN DANGER

The mangel crop in the Chilliwack district is threatened with total loss unless there is an immediate change to warmer temperatures. Potato growers who have their crops in pits worked all night covering the pits to save the vegetables.

Railway service on the Prince Rupert line of the Canadian National Railways, extending 150 miles between Inverness and Bulkley Canyon, remains suspended pending repairs to damage caused by slides and washouts. Points such as Ter-

NEW SCHEME IS A GAMBLE

Prof. H. F. Angus Tells Kiwanis Club Alberta Government Unsound

Give each of your children a cheque book and they will be happy trading with each other until there is an urge to go to the corner candy store. Then they will need real cash.

This was one of the simple illustrations used by Professor H. F. Angus, head of the Economics Department at the University of British Columbia, in describing the fallacy of the Aberhart Social Credit scheme to members of the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Professor Angus related that it would cost Alberta roughly $120,000,000 per year to pay a dividend of $25 per month to every resident of the province over twenty-one years of age. When dividend cheques were issued there would be a rush to purchase imported goods. Storekeepers would be at a loss to secure enough coin of the realm to restock their shops, he said.

FALLACIOUS THEORY
"Mr. Aberhart says that all imports will be paid for by exports from Alberta, but this is fallacious when one realizes that imports must of necessity be greater than exports," Professor Angus explained.

He said that the new Government hoped to secure Canadian dollars by taking over the wages of railway and Dominion Government employees and the interest on Government bonds.

The speaker decreed that the proposed Alberta State bank would have difficulty in securing money which was of any use outside the province.

There would be a rush to spend dividends before they depreciated to their real value, he said. Inflation and soaring prices for food and clothing, Professor Angus declared. He also believed that sales of life insurance policies would show a heavy decrease.

Mr. Aberhart followed the Price Spreads Commission intently and believes that all industries enjoy exorbitant profits. He proposes to raise $120,000,000 per year from business returns, which are far below that figure," Professor Angus stated.

Giving an illustration, he said if a man purchased land for $1,000 and sold it for $1,500, Mr. Aberhart considered the $500 as a price spread and would levy a heavy tax upon it.

FIX WHEAT PRICE
Dealing with wheat, the speaker mentioned that the Alberta Government intended to fix the price at 65 cents per bushel, of which 5 cents would go to the Government, but by the time the wheat reached the public as bread, taxes would amount to 68 cents per bushel. If the just price of wheat exceeded world market prices, the Government planned to tax all goods imported into Alberta.

He told how Alberta electors were misled not to bother with details of Social Credit. They were urged to leave it to "experts."

"Mr. Aberhart's popularized variance of Major Douglas' Social Credit is an unsound gamble and not an experiment, because it is not scientifically controlled," Professor Angus concluded.

MADRID, Oct. 29 (AP).—Premier-Designate Juan Chacabarro tonight succeeded in forming a Cabinet to replace the one that resigned earlier in the day as a result of a bribery scandal.

THESSALON, Ont., Oct. 29 (AP).—Fire of unknown origin today destroyed $150,000 worth of lumber here and for a time threatened to spread to the town itself. The Thessalon, Sault Ste. Marie and Blind River Forestry Department fire brigades subdued the flames before dawn.

Two great church conferences will take place in 1937; that on "Life and Work" at Oxford, and of "Faith and Order" in Edinburgh. The late Bishop Soderblom, of Sweden, was the inspiration of the one and the late Bishop C. H. Brent, of Western New York, of the other.

Radio Dealers Hear Address

Philo Achieving Noteworthy Volume of Sales, Says Speaker

"In 1934-35 per cent of all radios sold in Canada were Philco models," Mr. R. B. Wilson, district representative for Philco Radio & Television Corporation, for the territory from Winnipeg to the Pacific, told a gathering of Philco dealers at the Empress Hotel Monday night.

Referring further to the great popularity of the Philco radio, Mr. Wilson said that, according to Government statistics, 23 per cent of all radios sold in Canada during the first nine months of this year were made by the Philco Corporation.

The speaker was introduced to the gathering by H. J. Cunningham, local representative of the Radio Sales Service Limited, British Columbia distributors for Philco.

Referring to the careful engineering and laboratory research methods of the Philco Corporation, Mr. Wilson said that no new feature was adopted finally until it had been tested for six months in average household conditions, quite in addition to the exhaustive tests carried out in the laboratory.

"High fidelity" tone reproduction, first installed in Philco, was one of the reasons, he said, for the growing popularity of this radio. The sustained popularity of Philco was evident in the fact that the Philco Corporation had made 9,000,000 sets since starting upon its manufacturing career.

Valuable advice in up-to-date methods of merchandising was given the meeting by means of a "talking picture."

STORIED SPOTS FROM SEA TO SEA

Where Briton and Spaniard Met

MORE than half way up Vancouver Island's rugged and wild coast line lies Nootka Sound. Its protected waters attracted Captain James Cook, who discovered and named it. He refitted his ships there in 1778, on the famous voyage which took him to Arctic waters and search of the northwest passage, and then to his death in Hawaii. Nootka soon became the storm centre in the dispute between Spain and Great Britain over the sovereignty of what is now the western coast of Canada.

Captain Meares, a British fur trader, bought land from the Indians and erected a fort ten years after Cook's visit. But the Spaniards claimed prior discovery and in the following year, 1781, Martinez came up from Mexico. He seized British ships, built a fort of his own and renamed the place Port San Lorenzo. This incident, known as the Nootka affair, aroused Britain to diplomatic

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S REQUESTS

If pre-election propaganda is to be believed, it may be assumed that British Columbia will see all it wants from the Federal Government. Primarily the forthcoming conference between the Dominion and the Provinces is to decide on desirable amendments to the British North America Act. That conference, however, is being translated by this Province into a gathering at which requests will be made for very substantial assistance to British Columbia. Mr. T. D. Pattullo and his Ministers are going to Ottawa with set requests the granting of which is being relied upon because there is a Liberal Government in power at the Federal capital. Very little has been overlooked in these requests. If they are granted the Dominion Government will be playing the role of an even greater benefactor to the Province than it ever has proved before. Presumably also, if other Provinces interpret the forthcoming gathering as British Columbia is doing, then Mr. Mackenzie King will have an exceptionally hard task in co-operating with the Provincial Liberal Ministers.

British Columbia officially will prefer the following requests. It wants an adjustment of taxation on the ground that this Province is contributing more to the Dominion than it is getting out of the country as a whole. Mr. Pattullo wants the Provincial debt refunded by the backing of Federal credit. He wants a loan at low interest, or no interest at all, to carry out Provincial public works. He wants the Pacific Great Eastern Railway taken over by the Canadian National Railway. He wants freight rates, to and from British Columbia, substantially lowered. He wants a new Federal unemployment relief policy which will recognize the primary responsibility of the Federal Government. He wants the Government at Ottawa to set up a system of regional customs tariffs. This request is based on the fact that British Columbia buys sixty million dollars' worth of goods from Eastern Canada and only sells Eastern Canada goods to the value of ten million dollars. If regional tariffs are not effected, Mr. Pattullo wants British Columbia compensated in some other way for an inequitable balance of domestic trade.

British Columbia will interpret the extent of Federal-Provincial co-operation in proportion as these requests are met. It is almost inconceivable that all of them should be granted, for similar treatment would have to be meted out to all the Provinces in the event of acquiescence. It has become the habit of the Western Provinces to lay their troubles at the doorstep of Ottawa. This is now to be done in larger measure than ever before. Mr. Mackenzie King's troubles are accumulating. If he is wise he will define, in a rigid way, the subjects which may be discussed at the conference to be held at the capital; otherwise he is laying up a peck of trouble for his Government.

FOLLY, ANCIENT AND MODERN

During the past few years it has frequently been remarked, often in private but in public, that the present depression has witnessed so many ill-advised political experiments, has seen the blowing up of so many economic bubbles, the rise and fall of so many parties, that future historians are likely to fasten upon these depression years some such label as the Soap Box Season, the Something for Nothing Decade, the Golden Age of Economic Sophistry, the Era of Amiable Social Lunacies.

Certainly the time has brought forth many astonishing projects, bolstered up with large promises of the speedy advent of the day of economic security and universal social felicity; but do we of the present age really deserve to be singled out for special condemnation in this regard? Is there no evidence in history that other people have been as foolish as ourselves? In point of fact history does tell us of economic and monetary projects and proposals, put forward and seriously considered in the past, which were quite as absurd as some of our modern fads and fancies.

There was, for example, the notorious Chamberlayne plan, put forward in the reign of William and Mary. It was a plan for making everybody rich, like the Townsend plan and some "Social Credit" plans. It was a plan which, Macaulay says, resembled the fancies of a child, or the dream of a man in a fever. There was to be a Land Bank. The doctrine was that everyone who had property ought to have, in addition, paper money to the full value of that property. If he had an estate worth 2,000 pounds, he ought to have his estate and 2,000 pounds in paper money. That paper money, thus based on land values, was to be inconvertible legal tender, and it was to be issued in great abundance. Chamberlayne said that if the owner of a piece of land with an annual income of one thousand pounds would pledge it for 100 years to the Land Bank, the Land Bank might on that security instantly issue notes for one hundred thousand pounds. Although the most ignorant squire in the House of Commons must have known very well that the fee simple of land would not sell for more than twenty years purchase, the Chamberlayne plan was sent to a committee which reported favorably upon it, although no decision was reached at the time.

Two years later the matter came up again, though not in its earlier form. It was now proposed to invite subscriptions for the establishment of a Land Bank. If a million of money was subscribed by a certain date fixed, the Land Bank was to come into existence. It was to be required to lend money on land mortgage at not more than 4 per cent. Unfortunately for the projectors, only twenty-one hundred pounds were subscribed, and the scheme fell through. The reason was plain. The country gentlemen could not lend money to the project. They wished it well, but they did so because they wished to borrow, not to lend. The moneyed-men in the city would not lend money to an institution which was prevented by law from getting more than 4 per cent on mortgage, whereas the current rates on land mortgage were 6 per cent.

The story of the recoinage of that reign is equally interesting. Recoinage was absolutely necessary because the coins in circulation had been very seriously mutilated and reduced in weight, and as the money became worse, counterfeit coinage naturally became easier and more frequent. Nearly every commercial transaction was naturally the occasion of furious dispute between buyer and seller. Many suggestions were made. This is what the historian has to say concerning one of these plans. A certain William Lowndes, Secretary of the Treasury and member for Seaford "was not in the least aware that a piece of money with the King's head on it was a commodity of which the price was governed by the same laws which govern the price of a piece of metal fashioned into a spoon or a buckle, and that it was no more in the power of Parliament to make the Kingdom richer by calling a crown a pound than to make the Kingdom larger by calling a furlong a mile. He seriously believed, incredible as it may seem, that if the ounce of silver were divided into seven shillings instead of five, foreign nations would sell us their wines and silks for a smaller number of ounces."

The early history of Canada furnishes us with an example of monetary unwisdom which is perhaps equal to some of our modern delusions. It was during the early French period and it is the more interesting because initiation of the currency seems to be the favorite device of many of our modern monetary experimenters. Coin was scarce in the Colony and the Intendant lacked money to pay the soldiers. This Intendant may have been the true and only original of that mythical bank manager who, in the opinion of some ingenious theorists, possesses the uncanny power of creating money by the stroke of a magic pen. The Intendant at any rate was a devout and simple-minded soul. What was he to do? He said that he did not know to what saint he should make his vows, but he must do something. So he took playing cards, cut them in fours, stamped them with a fleur-de-lis and a crown, and had them plentifully signed and counter-signed. Of course succeeding Governors issued more and more of this currency until during the last year of the Colony's existence it was absolutely worthless.

Clearly the old saying that there is nothing new under the sun applies to foolish monetary policy. The wild monetary theorists of today may rally but they are not likely to surpass their predecessors.

REPUDIATION

The date set for the repudiation by the Ontario Government of its contract with the Quebec Power Companies is October 31. The effect of this step on the credit of the Province has already been, to some extent, discounted. The actual happening, however, cannot fail to prove an embarrassment both in a political and financial sense to the Ontario and Federal Governments. It will inevitably have its effect on the credit of Canada and at a time when a new Government has gone into office at Ottawa. When the Ontario Legislature passed the act of invalidation, and sanctioned repudiation, the British market as a source of funds for Canadian investment was closed. The repudiation is a matter involving $300,000,000. It involves even more, because it raises the question of how much sanctity there is in public undertakings. Commenting on the proposed move, The Montreal Gazette says:

"In repudiating these contracts Ontario is not only breaking faith with the power companies and with the investor; it is sacrificing its good name. This would be bad enough if Ontario's credit alone were concerned; but Ontario is one of the greatest and richest Provinces of the Dominion, and when it takes a step of this character it impairs the credit of all Canada. The situation is a very awkward one for the Dominion Government. A great deal of important financing within the next few years, and even months, lies before that Government, and it cannot hope to escape the effects of the action which the Government of Ontario is contemplating."

If you count the sunny and the cloudy days of the whole year, you will find that the sunshine predominates—Ovid.

A thankful heart is not only the greatest virtue, but the parent of all other virtues—Cicero.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Some things are of that nature as to make one's fence chuckle, while his heart does ache.

—Bunyan.

Human life, like all forms of animal life, has been described as just one thing after another. One thing which distinguishes human life from other forms of animal life is religion. Although one imaginative speculator has declared that the only animal which has any conception of a deity is the dog, which worships his master, the rational concept is that in the animal world, as in the heathen world, there is no god. Man is a religious animal, and ever since the acceptance of the theory or the fact of religion, there have been religious centres or holy places, and pilgrimages to those places. In order to insure salvation the Mohammedan's whole duty was to see Mecca and die.

The Christian's Holy City was, and is, Jerusalem, at one time the City of David, which was not militarily impregnable notwithstanding the quality of its foundations, and it fell into the hands of the Saracens, who appear to be still more numerous in Jerusalem than the Jews and the Christians. Neither the prayers nor the pilgrimages of the adherents on what we call the true faith have freed the Holy City and the Holy Sepulchre from the political control of the adherents of the Prophet of Mecca.

In this year of religious grace and political uncertainty the Holy City of the largest Christian community in the world is Rome. There are yearly pilgrimages to Rome and hundreds of Christian churches there where prayers are said, the burden of which must be invocations for peace upon earth and goodwill towards men, but in the streets of the Holy City the pilgrim will hear speeches glorifying war and see tumultuous demonstrations in favor of war. Human life is, therefore, just one thing after another, and most of the aspects of life contradict one another.

In Canada and in some other nations of the world the people are more interested in material things than in things which are eternal. In Canada we are not in the habit of making religious pilgrimages. The political centre of Canada is Ottawa, and all the material hopes of the people are centred there. During the present year there has been one pilgrimage after another to Ottawa.

The provincial Premiers have dragged themselves out of a slough of financial despond and implored Ottawa to save their provinces from bankruptcy. The Prime Minister of the late Government told the despairing pilgrims that he would do what he could, and he did what he could, but the utmost he could do was not enough. The mayors of the cities and the representatives of the municipalities trekked down to Ottawa in the prayer of the unemployed and the prosaic of the bankrupt. The Prime Minister of the late Government told the despairing pilgrims that he would do what he could, and he did what he could, but the utmost he could do was not enough. The mayors of the cities and the representatives of the municipalities trekked down to Ottawa in the prayer of the unemployed and the prosaic of the bankrupt.

The pilgrims did not get all they demanded, so they joined together and turned the Government out and put another Government in. The pilgrims and the voters reasoned within their minds that if the Government could not change its attitude towards their demands, they could change the Government; that a change could do no harm and it might at least do some good. Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King is in and Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett is out, and the hopes of the people are high. Everybody is looking for cheerful news from Ottawa, and the only intimation from the city of hope is that no change has taken place, and none is immediately contemplated. The only authentic announcement thus far is that a commission will be appointed to deal with unemployment and that all titles and ornamental prefixes to names will be abolished. The ornamental affixes will not be cut off, possibly because the leaders of the Government have an apprehension that to his name as long as the tail of a comet.

If the radical provincial Premiers expect any radical measures from Ottawa they assuredly will be disappointed. The new Prime Minister in a moment of candor admitted in a speech to a radical Western audience that at heart he was a radical, but the blood from the heart comes out only shows itself in spots on the skin. The political strength of the Government has been drawn from the parts of Canada where the people are essentially conservative. The policy of the Government will be determined by the public opinion of the East and the centre of Canada. The chief problem of Canada will be the problem of the Finance Minister, the author of the greatly lauded Dunning Budget. The Prime Minister will do nothing until he hears the views of the Finance Minister, and that means nothing will be done for some time. Mr. Dunning will probably express his views of the acute of the problems of the Government by asking the Premiers who are demanding more what they have done and what they are prepared to do for themselves. We predict that for weeks—the news from Ottawa given to the newspapers will be no changes made and none contemplated except such changes as are necessary for the purpose of supplying officials in important positions by faithful supporters of the party.

Another famous character of the Hebrew elders, Moses, may be remembered by our Scandinavian forefathers as Forsell. He was lawgiver to the Asir, the "gods." He gave the Norwegian all their principal laws. Once he met the elders, in a remote and rocky place far from home, flung his battle-axe at the cliff, where a spring of water gushed forth, since considered sacred. Forsell then expounded a code of laws far superior to any they could devise, and which insured them prosperity. Forsell is, of course, the original of Forsythe and Forsyth, revealing the Scandinavian strain in the Scots.

The word dances to the god, after whom Tuesday is named, are identical with the Highland dances, one being performed barefoot in and out among the naked sword blades. In their wandering from Southern Europe to the Scandinavian peninsula, Ireland and the North of Scotland, and covering a period of many generations, their life as a race of migratory warriors had inbred a strain of courage and aggressiveness that made them fighters second to none. Yet after Ragnarok, their Armageddon, they believed a new Quimil (Jerusalem) would arise and there would gather all the virtuous of the vanquished empires, "but the Asir remained masters of all, continuing to share their power with the conquered, who thus became their friends." This same thing is foretold among the prophecies relating to Anglo-Saxon Israel.

Coffee With a Sock

A friend of ours, well-known to the majority of Victorians, and who spent considerable time in India, avouches for the following story. It appears that he complained several times to his cook in India about the odd flavor of the morning coffee, but the Java continued to taste strange. Taking the bull by the horns one morning, he wrathfully descended to the kitchen and was flabbergasted to find the cook straining the coffee through a sock. After the master and servant spent five minutes teaching the cook a whole series of new stinging nouns and adjectives, the weebone domestic managed to get in a word edgewise. "Please do not be angry, Sahib," he wailed. "I did not deserve one of your clean socks." After that the coffee returned to normal flavor.—G.B.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of October 30, 1885)

Comedian and Dramatist Comings-J. Duke Murray, representative of Milton Nobles, the eminent comedian and dramatist, reached the city yesterday. The company will appear at the Victoria Theatre next Monday in "Love and Law," a comedy in three acts. On Wednesday in "The Philistine," and on Thursday a second performance of "Love and Law" will take place. Mr. Murray performed in Victoria many years ago. He was then a very young actor and gave promise of a great future. That promise has been realized. He is now one of the foremost actors in America, and returns to Victoria laden with the good opinions of his numerous audience.

A four-story building—buildings in Victoria are gradually creeping upward. Newsteads no more dreams of erecting a one or two-story business structure. Three-story buildings began to rise three years ago, and now Messrs. Bailey & Cowell propose to erect a handsome four-story hotel, fifty by ninety feet, on the Old Fellows' lot, on the northwest corner of Yates and Douglas Streets.

Marine Notes—The steamer Queen of the Pacific arrived Wednesday morning with a number of passengers and about 350 tons of freight for Victoria. The bark carrier, "The Queen," will arrive from Tacoma next Tuesday and leave Victoria on Thursday with her cargo of Chinese for Hongkong.

RECOMMEND CHANGES IN COURT RULE

Juryman Suggest Hearings
Be Delayed Until Coroner's
Work Is Completed

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN AUTO FATALITY

Two recommendations were attached to the verdict of accidental death returned by the coroner's jury investigating the death of Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. McCarter, victims of an automobile accident, on September 29, at the intersection of Hillside Avenue and Jackson Street.

The jury recommended some action be taken by the Attorney-General of the Province to prohibit preliminary hearings, in criminal courts, of cases under investigation by a coroner's jury and until such time as the coroner's jury completed its work. The jury also recommended that Hillside Avenue, between Shelbourne and Quadra Streets, be constituted an arterial highway.

The jury entered upon its duties a month before, having adjourned for the intervening period in order to await the recovery of necessary witnesses.

SOUGHT DELAY

When Dr. E. C. Hart, the coroner, announced his readiness to proceed with the taking of evidence yesterday, H. W. Davey, in the absence of H. A. Beckwith, counsel for Francis R. Findlay, sought an adjournment for two weeks longer. He did this because of the absence of Mr. Beckwith and also because his client had been committed for trial and would be before the Assizes early next week. The taking of evidence now might prejudice the case for Mr. Findlay, Mr. Davey said.

To avoid miscarriage of justice in such cases, Mr. Davey said, in England no proceedings in the coroner's court were proceeded with while a case, in which a charge had already been laid in the criminal courts, was pending. While there was no statute here similar to that in England, Mr. Davey felt that it would be a wise course to follow, to adjourn the hearing.

BETTER PRACTICE

Dr. Hart said he could not comply with the request. "He agreed the English practice was better than that in vogue here, but there was no statute, in this country, that required this course."

The evidence taken was for the most part similar to that given at the preliminary hearing.

To a jurymen's question, Dr. Gordon Kenning testified, after telling of the injuries suffered by the deceased, had they been younger persons, they might have survived.

E. W. Bird, driver of the car in which the victims of the accident were riding, said in reply to questions by Mr. Davey that he did not halt his car on the tracks on Hillside because he considered he had time to get across out of the way of the oncoming car.

The coroner did not call Mr. Findlay to testify as, he explained to the jury, he did not think, under the circumstances, that it would be fair to do so. He advised the jury not to be prejudiced against Mr. Findlay on that account.

Public Works Committee To Meet Thursday

A SPECIAL meeting of the public works committee of the City Council will be held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon for the purpose of considering what projects shall be undertaken with the $100,000 to be loaned the city by the Provincial Government.

The meeting will be followed by a session of the City Council at 4 o'clock, when, it is expected, definite action will be taken on some of the more pressing projects. Certain works should be started almost immediately to avoid the heavy winter rains, and it is probable that the council will authorize the procedure of such work on Thursday afternoon.

was going at a reasonable speed, and was being operated in a reasonable way, they should bring in a verdict of accidental death. If there was found to have been gross carelessness, the verdict should be one of manslaughter, the coroner said.

After being out a short time, the jury returned for further instructions. The foreman asked the coroner if an adjournment could be taken until after the trial in the Assize Court, without bringing in a finding.

Dr. Hart replied that if the jurymen could not agree on a verdict, they would have to be dismissed and the matter referred to a judge. He was of the opinion that no matter what the verdict of the coroner's jury was, it would not influence the jury in the criminal proceedings.

An adjournment was not possible and, he pointed out, if they took that course, there was the possibility the final verdict of the coroner's jury might differ from that of the Assize Court.

HEAR ONLY ONE SIDE

It was pointed out by the jurymen that they were handicapped in reaching a conclusion in view of the fact that they had heard only one side of the case. They had not heard the evidence for the defence.

Dr. Hart explained that ordinarily the evidence would be taken almost immediately following the accident and that both sides would be heard. He, however, felt it would not be fair to have the accused testify now.

The verdict was shortly afterwards reached of accidental death, with two riders added.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE RESIDENT DIES

Sidney Joseph Heald, Aged Sixty-Seven, Well-Known Merchant For Many Years

There passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Monday, Sidney Joseph Heald, aged sixty-seven years, who had been a resident of Victoria and Shawnigan Lake for the last forty-four years.

Surviving Mr. Heald are his widow and two sons, a brother and sister in England, and two brothers, resident in Esquimalt.

Mr. Heald was born in Nottinghamshire, England. On his arrival in Victoria, he engaged in the mercantile business, operating a grocery store on Douglas Street.

OBTAINS SHELF OF TINY BOOKS

Montreal Citizen to Present
Seven Minute Volumes to McGill Museum

MONTREAL, Oct. 23 (AP).—A three-inch shelf of books—seven closely-printed volumes containing a wealth of material, but measuring just three inches in width when placed side by side in their case—was acquired recently by J. S. Shadell, of Montreal.

Each of the seven minute volumes in the set is a perfect book in every way, beautifully bound in morocco leather by a famous London binder. They stand hardly an inch high and each is just three-quarters of an inch across. The books are exquisitely printed on fine paper, with several hundred pages in each. Although the type is almost microscopic in size, it can be read with the naked eye and stands out sharply under a magnifying glass.

WORLD'S SMALLEST

This miniature library contains an English dictionary, said to be the smallest in the world. There is also a book of English-Idish and Scotch songs, complete with music and finely-engraved illustrations. Another volume contains Burns' poems, while two others, labelled "Golden Thoughts" and "Merry Thoughts," have extracts from the philosophers and humorists of the world. The set is completed by an English-French dictionary and a copy of the Koran, printed in Arabic.

AGE UNCERTAIN

Though the age of the books is uncertain, it is believed they date back more than a century. They were printed in different places and apparently at different times. Mr. Shadell obtained the set from an Englishman who had found them by chance in an English town and purchased them from their owner, who did not realize or appreciate their worth.

The present owner is planning to present them to the museum of the McGill University Library, where they will be the smallest volumes in the exhibit of miniature books.

of their new duties. To take care of local matters the position and responsibility of the port manager at each port will be enlarged.

IN DIFFERENT CLASS

Harbor Commissions at Toronto and Hamilton are in a different class and are not affected by the change.

In a statement, Mr. Howe said: "Since the date of the report, there has been an increasing tendency on the part of the several harbor commissions to intensify the anomalies covered by it. In general it may be said that the chief objective seems to have been to discover ways and means of spending all money made available by Parliament rather than to keep up with the actual requirements of the ports."

"Some $150,000,000 has been made available to the harbor commissions by statute, and to date all this has been expended—except, for small balances. A competitive race for improvements between the commissions is in evidence."

MUCH MONEY WASTED

"The best interests of Canada

seem to have been lost sight of in favor of purely sectional views. Many activities can be described only as a waste of the taxpayers' money. In many cases, commitments have been made by harbor commissions without Federal authority and without funds for the purpose being authorized. The financial setup of accounting methods is out of line with modern business efficiency."

The Minister added: "It will be the purpose to enlarge the position and responsibility of the port manager at each commission port in order that local interests may not be adversely affected by the change."

"While local staffs will be reorganized to obtain the maximum of efficiency, such reorganization will be conducted with the least possible disturbance of the present executive personnel."

DODGE CITY, Kansas, Oct. 29 (AP)—Police Sergeant Jim Flanagan went to see the doctor about that backache. The doctor thumped his chest, took his pulse, and asked him his life's history as well as that of the backache.

Finally came the verdict. "Jim," said the doctor, "it looks like you'd have to have your teeth out."

"Okay, Doc," said Jim, pulling out his upper and lower plates, "but my back still hurts."

NOTED VIRTUOSO OF ORGAN HERE

Pietro Yon Gives Brilliant Recital at Metropolitan Church

Pietro Yon, brilliant Portuguese organist, appeared in recital at the Metropolitan Church here last evening. His audience, which included the city's most representative musicians and music-lovers, was roused to great enthusiasm by an art which was pre-eminently distinguished for its life, vivacity and high exuberance of spirit.

Assisted by Mrs. T. H. Johns, a popular and gifted local singer, Mr. Yon gave a memorable programme, notable for the quality and particularly notable for the place his amazing pedal-work played in a series of set pieces and encores, evidently selected with the intention of displaying this particular phase of his technique. There were occasions when his pedal runs might have been mistaken for keyboard work, they were so incredibly nimble, and the phrasing and rhythm so clean-cut. This neatness and clarity distinguished the keyboard work also.

THE PROGRAMME

The programme opened with the fine Guilmant "First Sonata," with its dramatic introductory passages. The power and sweetness of the beautiful four-manual instrument were called forth in the first movement and, early in the work, one realized what a master of the pedal organ Mr. Yon was when he played the passages for pedal alone. In the lighter part of the allegro movement he demonstrated his brilliant, lucid, and graceful fingerwork, with the fine sense of phrasing and rhythm. In the pastorello, with its quiet pedal organ theme as a background for the graceful and light-voiced melody on the keys, he showed a beautiful pianissimo; and the finale, crisp, elastic, decisive, with a fine rondo at the last, was most spirited.

In the Bach Prelude and Fugue in D Major one sensed the difference between the German and Latin interpretation. This reading, while technically a fine piece of work, was less sculptural, less disciplined and measured in its rhythm than one is accustomed to hear it from the former school, the source of the British tradition of Bach.

OTHER NUMBERS

In the remainder of the programme major interest lay with Mr. Yon's own compositions, which included, in the first part of the recital, "Gesu Bambino," a simple melody in the old style, chorale-like, very charming, the statement made first in forte, then in double pianissimo, and carried through a number of restatements that emphasized its caressing character. "Echo," the first of his compositions in the last part of the programme, followed a bit of keyboard wizardry called "Squirrel" (by Weaver), on a scale of almost incredible smallness of tone, with giddy, whirling, leaping tempo—the whole hardly conceivable as a performance on "the king of instruments."

"Echo" employed the same infinitesimal organ tone, even in the pedals. But the immediately succeeding number, "Hymn of Glory," brought the full ringing organ in declamatory style, and, as an encore, he added another of his own compositions, "First Concert Study," in the form of a "Moto Perpetuo"; and still another, a delightful imitation of a primitive organ used by the minstrels of the twelfth century.

His other numbers were the colorful Cesar Franck "Prelude," the Bossi "Ave Maria," with an interesting effect of muffled drums; Box's "March of the Shepherds," and Bavanello's "Christus Resurrexit," the last two added as encores. Mrs. Johns gave a characteristic, fully fine performance, bringing good traditional style, as well as experience and a confident voice, to the singing of Bach's "My Heart Ever Faithful," which has great difficulties in the way of intervals; and Haydn's "With Verdure Clad," in which she employed a good breadth of phrase and showed great taste as well as beauty of voice. "Edward" was a very fine piano accompaniment to the organ.

PERFECTS MODEL RAILWAY ENGINE

Toy Locomotive Actually Burns Coal and Can Pull Two and a Half Tons

MONTREAL, Oct. 29 (AP)—A model railway engine, perfect in every detail, actually burning coal and propelled by steam, capable of pulling from two to two-and-one-half tons, is the property of George Stevenson, resident of Montreal. It is valued at $3,000.

Mr. Stevenson built this miniature locomotive entirely by hand and in his spare time, using his cellar as a workshop. The toy engine, which took two-and-one-half years to complete, was designed after the "Flying Scotsman" type of English locomotive to which class the famous Flying Scot belongs.

WEIGHS 150 POUNDS

Engine and tender together are five feet, nine inches in length, and weigh 150 pounds. The locomotive is twelve inches in height and carries nine pints of water for use as steam. The steam is raised in eight minutes and pressure is set at 120 pounds a square inch.

George Stevenson, a native of Birmingham, England, came to Canada fifteen years ago. He is a foreman mechanic by trade and spends his spare time building models. He stated he is a descendant of the author, Robert Louis Stevenson.

Build New World Is Challenge to American People

Rev. C. E. Silcox, of Toronto, Gives Inspiring Address Before Victoria Women's Canadian Club
On Call to Populace of This Continent

"We citizens of the two Americas are called on to build a new world. If with all our resources we cannot build a new world, where can it be built? In Europe? In Asia? No! Here is our destiny. We may have made great and tragic mistakes in the Americas, but it is not too late to create here a home for a new humanity. There will be difficulties, but if we keep the faith and once in a while listen to the voice that sent our forefathers here, we shall win, and we shall weld into one unbreakable unity all those who come to this New World."

This challenging statement was made by Rev. C. E. Silcox, of Toronto, in the course of the eloquent and compactly rhetorical address that he delivered before a well-attended meeting of the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel.

Under the title of "The Meaning of Citizenship in the Americas," he ranged over a big field, geographically, as well as in the world of thought and ideas, drawing upon an experience of his fellowman, both collectively and individually, as studied in many countries of Europe and the two Americas.

FUNDAMENTAL LOYALTY
To give strength to his statement concerning fundamental national loyalties in man being found, generally, to repose where their childhood loyalties were formed, Mr. Silcox briefly sketched his own background as a "fourth generation Canadian" who, although most of his adult life had been spent in Europe and the United States, had now come back to make his home in Canada. His address, particularly in the closing paragraphs, betrayed a warmth of loyalty coupled with a proud sense of the responsibilities which Canadian citizenship as well as citizenship in the New World of the Americas entails.

Accompanying his parents to England in the last year of Queen Victoria's reign, Mr. Silcox also at that time visited France and was able to remember the intensely antipathetic feeling which the French had at that time for the British. This contrasted strongly with the present-day attitude, which he experienced during various missions to Geneva. He recalled some of his experiences on the occasion when he went from New York to Geneva as a member of the American research organization to study the youth movement, assisting the world's Y.M.C.A. in preparing its conference in Finland in 1926.

Again, in 1929, for a few months he assisted the then newly-organized national conference of Jews and Christians, and was given the major responsibility in preparing the agenda used at the Seminar at Columbia University, when, for the first time, Protestants, Catholics and Jews met to consider their common social problems as well as their differences. The same year he was asked to serve in connection with an international survey of Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. activities, and in his capacity as regional consultant for the Latin-American area visited Cuba, Brazil, Mexico, Chile, Peru and the Argentine.

RETURNED TO CANADA
In 1930 he returned to Canada under instructions from the Institute of Social and Religious Research to make a comprehensive study of the causes and consequences of the church union movement in Canada. This work being completed, he is still in Canada, being now general secretary of the Social Service Council of Canada, with headquarters at Toronto.

The conflict of loyalties that he experienced himself during the war, when, resident in the United States and pastor of a church in New England, he had to remain nominally neutral, and his subsequent observations during America's intensive drive directed to the Americanization of her immigrants, forced him to the conclusion that it was dangerous to tamper with a man's loyalty. Many of these immigrants fled to America to escape unhappy conditions, it was true, but the majority, he thought, had a pride in their homeland, and should not have been expected to surrender all their loyalties at once. Far wiser was the gradual process of assimilation, after the idea of citizenship had been properly inculcated.

A NEW REALIZATION
It was during his trip to South America, while in the Argentine, that for the first time he began to understand the real economic problem of Canada, he said, reminding his audience of the place the Argentine occupies in world economics as a great wheat-growing country. This gave the two countries a common economic interest. There was also a certain cultural identity, and similar problems in connection with immigration, although immigrants came from different sources. It was apparent that the essential task of each country was that of making diverse human material into a united population. So long as the new world allowed the animosities of the old world to continue on this side this could never be done.

GENEVA A CONTRAST
At Geneva life offered strong contrast to life in America. There was culture, leisure. But there were other aspects which repelled: The national self-centredness; a people who talked of culture, yet who practiced barbarism; over-population, restricted natural resources, making life often hard and ruthless except for the very rich; an acceptance of "class," with its assumption that a man could only with supreme difficulty rise out of the class into which he was born. Nations, too, had too many historical entanglements. One felt the dead hand of the past. He found himself resenting the superior attitude of Europeans to Americans. He realized how little could be done to stabilize the peace of the world until Europe had put its house in order, and he began to wonder whether the United States had not been justified in keeping out of European squabbles. "I realized that I was a child of the New World, and that my place was here, 'barbaric' as it might be," Mr. Silcox recalled. In New York more, viewing the complexity of the peoples and religions composing its life, he wondered whether the experiment of the melting pot would ever succeed. The supreme problem, he realized, was spiritual; not material; for while America could supply, in almost unlimited

The Land of Oz furnishes the colorful background for the Cornish Players' production of L. Frank Baum's child's classic, "The Wizard of Oz," which will be presented at the Empress Theatre on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. by the Cornish Players, takes shape as a blithe and tuneful operetta. Thirty-five puppet characters enact the delightful tale against a background of twelve scenes. Though reduced to the proportions of a puppet stage, "The Wizard of Oz" has been set and costumed as elaborately as a De Mille film spectacle. Not the least charm of "The Wizard of Oz" is the fetching musical score composed especially for the Cornish production by Edward Chamberlain. Of the fourteen original songs introduced in "The Wizard," none is more delightful than the "Wiz-Wiz-Wizard of Oz"—the catchy theme song.

"The Wizard of Oz" is the directorial achievement of Ellen Van Volkenburg and Irene Phillips. Miss Van Volkenburg is famed for having introduced puppet spectacles to the American stage.

Has Been General Merchant in China For Thirty Years

Although he has had many experiences during his thirty-one years as a general merchant in China, L. C. Hall, Hongkong, declined to speak of the Orient, when seen at the Empress Hotel last night.

Asked about business conditions, he declined to make any remark, but later intimated that the depression had struck a severe blow in his adopted country.

Accompanied by Mrs. Hall, the visitor left China nearly four months ago and went to England by way of Siberia. They are now on their way back to Hongkong.

Painting of Indian Sold In New York

Among the pictures that will be shown at the Island Arts and Crafts exhibition that is to be opened at the Belmont Building next Monday, and to continue throughout the week, is a life-size water color painting of Chief Red Wolf, of the Seneca Indians. The work of Mrs. S. MacLure, who is very well known in art and musical circles here, this painting was recently sold to a New York collector, who has allowed the picture to remain here until after the exhibition.

It is a striking portrait of one of the oldest surviving Indians of the Island, head of one of the most industrious and progressive of the native tribes, and a picturesque and dignified figure.

Solo Club Will Give Programme

Bach, master of the fugue, and Beethoven, the musical revolutionist, are the composers chosen for the opening of The Solo Performers' Club meeting to be given in the Fairfield United Church on Friday, November 15, at 8:15 p.m. The concert is in aid of the church funds.

Miss Isabelle Pike, A.T.C.M., has been chosen to interpret Bach, and will be heard in a prelude and a fugue. The prelude is a piano arrangement of the prelude to the sixth violin sonata by Bach. It is written in fugue style, and is played in a lively manner and with fire.

The fugue is from Bach's first partita, and differs slightly from the suite, because it has a movement other than that of a dance type. In this particular fugue the melody is played entirely by the left hand, the triplet accompaniment being taken by the right.

Miss Evelyn Harper, L.R.S.M., who is well known locally as an exponent of Beethoven, has chosen the first movement of the master's inspiring P minor sonata, generally known as the appassionata.

This piece is majestic in outline, and has a hurricane motif, with almost electrical climaxes, having been inspired by Shakespeare's "Tempest." It is full of vitality, and the music moves at a fast pace.

Y.W.C.A. Notes

Mrs. W. G. Wilson will speak on "The Aftermath of the Election," and Mrs. H. L. Campbell will take the subject of "New Discoveries in the World of Science," at the Y.W.C.A. Current Affairs hour on Friday. This group, under the leadership of Mrs. P. B. Scurren, has a registration of over one hundred members.

Of general interest will be the review of John Buchan's books, to be given by Mrs. Llewellyn Thomas, at the Y.W.C.A. Current Affairs hour on Thursday. Mrs. E. Tomlin will preside during the address and discussion.

The attendance at the home nursing class, under the direction of Miss A. Creasor, V.O.N. supervisor, has been so large that the next course will be restricted to a smaller number and put on twice during the year.

The election of officers for the various Y.W.C.A. clubs has been of special interest during the past week in the girls' work department. With Miss Winnie Elliott as president and Miss Lillian Leash as vice-president, the Senior Business Girls' Club is launched on an entertaining and informative programme.

The High School Old Girls' Club has elected a responsible executive with Miss Dorothy Deane as president, Miss Vivian Doull vice-president, and Miss Isabel Turner secretary.

To date, club nights have been made particularly worthwhile through the kindness of Dr. Sippel with chats on life in the Orient; Rev. E. F. Church, who led a discussion on "Friendship and Personality"; Miss Hazel Sargent, who spoke on the "League of Nations"; and Miss Hay, on the choice of a good book. Each contribution was much appreciated by the girls.

On Friday, the stenographers' practice group was the guest of the Y.W.C.A. and the Soroptimist Club to a Hallowe'en supper. The evening was devoted to games and discussion. A junior business girls' club was formed and will meet bi-monthly. The plan outlined includes monthly talks by representative people of the business world. Among others, Mr. Kenneth Ferguson, Mr. J. F. Bartram and Mr. Duncan McBride have kindly offered their services for this purpose. Mrs. Spurr outlined a plan which is very helpful in placing the girls in business.

Hallowe'en festivity is the keynote of club activity this week. The High School Old Girls' Club had a jolly spook party Monday evening, while Thursday evening will be a night of mystery and fun for the Versatile Club and the Pirate Club. The Senior Business Girls' Club have a Hallowe'en supper planned for Monday, next week.

The Outdoor Club is looking forward to its third outing on Saturday, an afternoon bike hike or, weather not being favorable, a rainy seashore tramp.

The beginners' badminton class has proved very popular, with the members showing a marked progress in their game. In order to accommodate the overflow, another class is being planned starting in January.

Miss Wilena Graham, who is in charge of the children's story and play hour, is very enthusiastic about the group. The stories are chosen in co-operation with Miss King, the children's librarian. The story hour is of special interest to mothers who shop on Saturday afternoon. The children range from five to eight years of age.

The Monday children's tap dancing class has steadily grown until it is no longer possible to accommodate new members.

Is Patroness of Pageant Will Mark Hallowe'en At Cabaret

MRS. J. W. FORDHAM JOHNSON

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Fordham Johnson, with Premier and Mrs. T. D. Pattullo, Sir Frank and Lady Barnard and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. D. Benson have graciously extended their patronage to the Cavalcade of Understanding, "Let's Be Friends," by Dorothy Crichton, which will be presented at the Empire Theatre on November 8 and 9, under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A.

The newly and beautifully-decorated ballroom at the Empress Hotel will be the scene of a brilliant Hallowe'en cabaret dance tomorrow evening. A novelty tap dance, featuring Kathleen Mann, will open the cabaret programme. The Hallowe'en chorus will be a particularly colorful number and will be participated in by Thelma Stratford, Kathleen Mann, Frances Borde, Lulu Bond, Kathleen Gregson, Davida Webb and Isabel McAlpine, the latter giving a solo dance from "Top Hat."

The third number will be the Piccolino, by Thelma and Alex, which promises to be outstandingly spectacular.

The spirit of festive mystery, so much a part of Hallowe'en celebrations, will be well to the fore and bookings are already heavy.

Maoris to Be Lecture Topic

Mrs. Allon Peebles, formerly of Christchurch, New Zealand, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, Tuesday, November 12, her subject to be "The Maoris of New Zealand; the Story of a Primitive People." Mrs. Peebles spoke on the same subject recently before the University Women's Club here, and gave a great deal of interesting first-hand information about this most advanced of all primitive peoples.

JUST HOW LONG DO YOUR HUSBAND'S SHIRTS LAST?

When do they reach the duster stage?

Here is a good way to prevent a $2.00 shirt from becoming a 5-cent duster long before its time. Always be sure you use a pure soap for your weekly wash.

Harsh, common soaps break down threads, causing holes, rips and unpleasant frayed edges. That's because you get thin, non-lasting suds and have to rub so hard to drive the dirt away.

But, Sunlight is all pure soap and nothing else. Its purity makes it dissolve quickly so there is no need for hard rubbing. The rich, safe, gentle suds go to work at once, and last to the end of the wash. And what a lovely sweet smelling wash Sunlight gives—white, things stay white—coloured things look like new.

Because Sunlight is all pure soap it is more economical. It protects your garments—makes them wear longer.

Look for Sunlight—the only laundry soap with a guarantee of purity stamped on every bar. It is kind to your hands, too. Get a supply of Sunlight before next wash day.

$5000 reward will be paid to any person who can prove that this soap, manufactured by Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto, contains any harmful adulterant whatsoever.

Victoria College Students Having Active Season

Badminton is rapidly becoming one of the most popular sports at the college. There are now nearly fifty members in the badminton club, all of whom are enthusiastic players. The club meets for practice three afternoons each week, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from noon until 4 p.m. Matches with other clubs have not started yet, but will be played in the evenings at the Willows.

This year there are two new clubs on the campus—the Out-of-Towners' Club and the Victoria College Christian Union. The former was started in order to foster a feeling of friendship among those students who have come to college from other parts. The latter is a branch of the Christian societies in U.B.C. and many high schools of the province.

A joint meeting of the faculty and Students' Council will be held shortly to choose a board which will be in charge of the production of the annual, "The Craigdarroch." The annual is published in May each year.

MID-TERM TESTS
Mid-term tests will be given by most of the members of the faculty shortly. Almost all the students are making frantic last-minute preparations for these tests.

Johnny Rolands is once again coaching the Rugby team, and puts the boys through stiff workouts every Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. Under his expert training, an intermediate team is gradually being moulded into shape. Bill Funday is acting as trainer and first-aid man, and is on hand at all the games.

Early last week the college was visited by Bob McMaster, who spoke at meetings of the Students' Christian Movement and the Victoria College Christian Union. He is the secretary of the S.C.M. at U.B.C. and is a former premier of the Older Boys' Parliament.

Arrangements have been made for the men's basketball team to hold its practices in the Victoria High School gymnasium on Tuesday afternoons. Robert Wallace has agreed to be responsible for the team at its practices until such a time as a regular coach can be obtained.

Girls' grass hockey has not yet been started this year, but the president of the women's athletics promises that a practice will be held in the very near future.

COLLEGE SOCIETIES
The Victoria College Christian Union met recently and began a study of the book of Romans. Miss Rice, the president, took charge of the meeting.

The Players' Club met on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, when Major Bullock-Webster had try-outs for parts in the college play, which is produced annually in March. Quite a large number of students were present at both of these meetings.

Miss Ross, the college librarian, is taking Miss Humphrey's place as assistant director. Major Bullock-Webster will once again be in charge of the play.

The semi-annual meeting of the Alma Mater Society was held at noon on Wednesday. The president, George Gregory, opened the meet-

The annual parents' reception was held on Saturday afternoon at the college, when the students escorted their parents and friends around the building and introduced them to the principal and members of the staff. Tea was served from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

Simultaneous with the reception was the Rugby game played between College and the Wanderers "Whites." A good crowd turned out to see the game. Unfortunately the game was rather one-sided, the College being beaten 19 to 0.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

MEDICINE UNDERMINES ITS OWN FUTURE

One hundred and fifty years ago the people of the earth were helpless before the onslaughts of smallpox, 600,000 people in Europe died from its effects every year. At last a modest English physician, Edward Jenner, by introducing vaccination, brought freedom from the deadly effects of this scourge.

In 1890, 112 out of each 100,000 people in the United States were killed by diphtheria. Today the number is not more than seven in 100,000; this has been accomplished by the use of antitoxin. Going a step further it has been found that toxoid when injected into a person susceptible (likely to be attacked by) to diphtheria makes it impossible for the disease to infect that person.

The Dick test was devised by Dr. Dick, husband and wife, of Chicago. By its use physicians find whether or not a child is susceptible to scarlet fever and are thus able to immunize (prevent attacks) against it.

Similarly typhoid fever no longer ravages mankind. In former years it has happened that more soldiers have died of typhoid fever than were killed in warfare.

Malaria and yellow fever that killed off hundreds of thousands yearly are no longer a menace to mankind, thanks to our patient research workers.

During the past few years we have seen two "incurable" diseases mastered, in that person afflicted with diabetes or pernicious anaemia are now enabled to live out the usual span of life.

Thus Dr. H. Sheridan Bakel, Jersey City, in a radio broadcast some months ago records the work of medical men who in their efforts to prevent death and disease really undermine their own livelihood.

"All over the world men of medicine are studying, spending time, spending money; bending all their scientific capabilities to discover how to reduce the toll of illness; searching for the formula that will prevent every disease; perfecting the methods that may cure it once it has started."

"Every advance made in the prevention of disease means less patients for the physician. Each time illness is prevented from ravaging a human body, a fee for treatment is lost."

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"
If October 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Controversial subjects are likely to lead to lengthy dissertations that will probably terminate in ill feelings this day. Money requires judicious handling, as it might be the basis of many misunderstandings, especially in the business world. Guard against being tempted to do any foolish spending. The desire to get something for nothing will also possibly be the cause of some of this day's discontent. Social functions may involve loss of popularity if the time set for the guests to gather is ignored, or there is a lack of punctuality in their getting started. Time is an element which must not be disregarded in any of this day's activities, so it will pay to keep track of it. Married and engaged couples, and those who are in love, should avoid saying or doing anything of a deceptive nature, as it might be very difficult to counteract its effect.
If a woman and October 30 is your birthday, curb any tendency you may have to be impatient, if you wish to know real happiness. Do not expect the average person you know to be as gifted as you are in mental alertness. It will be wise for you to cultivate the habit of repose. While

Getting Up Nights

If you suffer from Getting Up Nights, Nervousness, Loss of Sleep, Anxiety, Headaches, Loss of Appetite, Stomach Trouble, Indigestion, or Bladder trouble, try the Doctor's prescription. It will be wise for you to cultivate the habit of repose. While

POPPY MAKING IS INSPECTED

Oak Bay Councillors and Others From Municipality Pleased With Work

Representatives of the Oak Bay Council and other organizations of that municipality visited the Red Cross Workshop yesterday and inspected all the work in progress there. The special visit was for the purpose of seeing what was being done there under the charge of Major Stanley Okell.

Headed by Councillor Richard Angus, acting reeve in the absence of Reeve R. W. Mayhew, the delegation included also Councillors T. J. Goodlake and R. R. Taylor, J. Vaughan-Roberts, of the School Board of Oak Bay, who is also relief officer of the municipality, accompanied the delegation. Mrs. Richard Angus and Mrs. R. R. Taylor, who are prominent in all manner of relief work in Oak Bay, were also present.

RECEIVE VISITORS
Commander Slingby, J. Waterston, Mrs. W. H. Booth, provincial president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Pro Patria branch, were present with Major Okell and staff to receive the visitors.

The visitors were gratified to learn that the results of this year's operations in the poppy making promised to exceed that of previous years. Councillor Angus, on behalf of Oak Bay, extended his best wishes to the management and expressed pride in the way in which the men employed there were being helped along.

The poppy campaign headquarters have been opened at 1241 Broad Street, with telephone 55814.

Who will dance the Carioca in a special feature number at the Club Continental in connection with the Halloween supper dance to be held tomorrow evening. Many other attractions have been arranged, and a general carnival spirit will prevail.

At the Theatres

PLAYHOUSE

The same romantic team which won such ovations in "Smilin' Through"—Norma Shearer and Fredric March—are together in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," currently playing at the Playhouse Theatre. The poetic love story of the new film is reminiscent of "Smilin' Through," the star's greatest hit, in its main theme and sentimental appeal. Like the other, it is a colorful costume picture, set in a great and romantic age.

COLUMBIA

Ned Sparks is one of Hollywood's most enthusiastic fishermen, and between pictures may usually be found at California's famous Rogue River, casting for steelhead, or in the High Sierras, where the golden trout may be found. Sparks is now at the Columbia Theatre in an important role of "Imitation of Life" Universal's John M. Stahl production starring Claudette Colbert.

LITTLE ORPHEUM

Two of the stars of ORPHEUM Cecil B. DeMille's famous "King of Kings" are reunited for the first time since that picture in Paramount's "Behold My Wife," starring Sylvia Sydney with Gene Raymond.

DOMINION

Metro-Goldwyn-THATRE Mayor's feature, "The Bishop Misbehaves," now at the Dominion Theatre marks the American film debut of Edmund Gwenn, distinguished British stage star. He is featured with Maureen O'Sullivan and Norman Foster in the adaptation of the bright stage comedy. Gwenn was the star of the recent two-year stage hit, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," and was seen by film audiences in the foreign-made picture, "Be Mine Tonight."

CURLING ENTHUSIASTS

WILL MEET THURSDAY

All those interested in curling and the formation of a club or league are asked to attend a meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce.

Reports on the investigation of the possibilities of establishing a curling rink in the new vacant building of the British Columbia Woolen Mills on Dallas Road will be made by officials of the Chamber. D. K. Kennedy, city building inspector, has found the building adequate in length for at least seven rinks, and, providing the rinks are installed, there will still be enough room left to store the machinery now in the building. It was announced by W. T. Strath, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Factory Shows Steady Growth

Additions Made to Plant in Toronto—Increase in Volume of Business

Dr. Jackson Foods, Limited, are now celebrating the completion of the fourth addition to their Toronto factory, an expansion made imperative by the steadily-increasing volume of business and the demand for the health-building foods manufactured at the plant.

The latest addition to the factory is of the most modern design, insuring light, air, comfort for the employees and production of the well-known Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy, Lihus and Kofy-Sub under the most advantageous conditions. The third addition was made in 1932, but last Summer it was found necessary to add 200 per cent to the manufacturing space.

Dr. Jackson attributes a large proportion of this expansion during a period of retarded business to the fact that during times of stress people pay more attention to their health, consequently making new demands on this strength-building food product. An extensive advertising campaign has also been a dominant factor, the Doctor states.

FLIGHT...

by W. D. TIPTON
and J. H. MASON

WHEN Vance Breeze with his mid-section tightly taped to prevent displacement of his abdominal organs, pointed the nose of the Northrop attack plane to the ground for its 16,000-foot power dive, he became, for about twenty seconds, the most expensive employee the world has ever known.

No one has yet envied Breeze's sudden, if short-lived riches. He was finding out if Northrop engineers had calculated their stresses correctly. If they had been wrong, Breeze would not have been able to approach them; he could only congratulate them for being right. Breeze taped his body to withstand the terrific strain when he pulled

RUIN

"Thou art the ruins," wept Marc Anthony at the murder of Julius Caesar, "of the noblest man that ever lived."

It is only the initiated who perceive the subtlety, feel in this eulogy the fine nuance in Shakespeare's use of "ruins."

Quite commonplace is it to hear that the defilements of its president "ruined" the bank; that a man's life or health is "ruined," and the like.

Accustomed as we are, however to this application of "ruin," it is not inherent in the word but rather an extension of its original significance, now obsolete, deriving from the Latin "ruere," to fall with violence; to rush or tumble down.

A man's falling off his horse, for example, was rightly referred to as his "ruin," though he was unhurt, in the line. "His ruin" startled all the other steeds.

From this extremely narrow intrinsic meaning, the word broadened in scope till it came to be applied to such a change of condition in anything which, if it did not destroy, unfitted it for use.

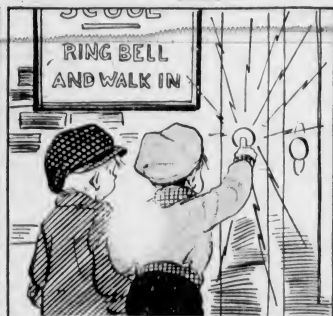

That is why we characterize as "ruined" the worthless remains of a booted business; a wrecked, dilapidated or fired building; even badly injured physical or mental health—all of which, figuratively, have fallen with violence; rushed or tumbled down from their original state.

FEATHER IN HER HAT~

by JULIE ARNE MOORE

CHAPTER XXI

It was Rita's night to get dinner and Ann, feeling unusually fagged, stretched out on the couch. She lay there now with closed eyes, thinking of Lee, of the ring she had not yet put on her finger.

How easy she had been. Planning for weeks what she would say when Lee brought up the subject of her conversation with his mother at the hospital—and then being so completely disarmed that the ring box was in her hand before she realized that Lee had no intention of clearing up the debris of the past.

To Lee, obviously, the past was of no consequence. Nothing had mattered to him but that they resume where they had left off. "As far as I'm concerned, we're just where we were, Ann." She should have been warned then; but she had been too busy fantasizing herself against what she saw as an inevitable attempt on Lee's part to explain his mother's attitude, to try to persuade her that she had been unfair in breaking off their engagement without even offering any reason for it.

Ann had no doubt of Lee's love for her. That troubled her most, for she knew that however long and earnestly she tried she could never care for him in the way that he wanted and had a right to expect. She respected and admired him and liked him very, very much. She was proud of the fact that he was in love with her, that of all the girls he knew he had chosen her for the greatest adventure of his life. . . . But as his wife, that was not enough. She should love him as he loved her, as she—

Her will to put Bill out of her life, definitely and permanently, cut across her consciousness and left the thought of him hanging like a severed head.

But no amount of thinking, of self-analysis could quite explain her action to her own satisfaction. Many things accounted for her quiet surrender. She had been unfair. There was no doubt of that. Her behavior at the hospital after that little talk with his mother had been constantly on her conscience. Then, too, she had been influenced by the attitude of Mollie and Bill. Perhaps they both had looked upon her engagement to Lee as an achievement on her part, but whereas Mollie had rejoiced wholly out of her fondness for Ann, Bill's approval had been forced and involved by a sense of loyalty to Lee.

But whatever the reason for it, Ann knew that when she let Lee put the little ring box in her hand and offered no protest, she had given her promise, finally and irrevocably, and that when he came for her, she would go with him.

Before Ann realized that Mollie was in the room, Mollie was lunging at her, a radiant smile on her face, her eyes had suddenly fixed upon a curiously familiar name:

"Spring's coming. Doubt it? Here's proof. The male harpinger, as you must have guessed, is the one and only Lee Monday who took off from the airport here late this afternoon on what he hinted might be a record-breaking flight to Los Angeles. The charming young woman standing on tip-toes to deliver the accolade to the country's most popular young man is Miss Ann Rogers of Elmville, Connecticut, who was with the flier when he was forced down in the Brookshires several months ago. Spring's coming and no mistake."

When eyes lifted, Mollie was going to the kitchen. Mollie had done that, Ann told herself. She even suspected that Mollie had put the photographs on Lee's trail. It would be like Mollie, Ann thought, for her to inspire this sort of thing. She could not have hoped for so intimate a pose, certainly, but a picture simply showing Ann and Lee together would have served Mollie's plan.

In this conjecture, Ann was right. Mollie had said to Bill, "I think if we could start some gossip, Ann would do something about it. It wouldn't let Lee down if it got around that they were engaged and Lee didn't deny it. I think I'll talk to one of our photographers."

And so all Washington knew that night that Ann Rogers of Elmville, Connecticut, had kissed Lee Monday.

"Does that suggest anything to you?"

"What is it?" Ann asked.

"A telephone mouthpiece with a loose diaphragm attached, if I know my mechanics. It was lying in an open drawer in the Senator's desk and when he got up to open a fresh carton of cigarettes, I appropriated it on general suspicion."

"I may be silly, but I've an idea that if you put this against a regular telephone mouthpiece and speak through it, your voice will have a tiny ringing at the other end of the line. We'll have to try it out sometime."

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Big Saving! No Cooking! So Easy!

Here is the well known old recipe which thousands of housewives have found to be a dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs very little, but it does give quick relief.

From any drugist, get a 2½ ounce bottle of Flax. Pour this into a 10 ounce bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's easy. Thus you make 16 ounces of a very efficient remedy, and you get four times as much cough medicine for your money. It never spoils and children love its taste. This home mixture soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases the soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Flax is a compound containing Norway Pine in a concentrated form, well known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

PRINCIPLES OF CREDIT WISE

Henry Law Speaks on System of Banks in Extending Business Loans

Principles of credit systems in regular business are much the same as those employed by the banks, as each businessman must in some degree view his credit customers as a banker views his credit customers, explained Henry Law, credit officer of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, here, in addressing members of the Credit Granters' Association at luncheon in Spencer's dining-room yesterday. His subject was "The Banker's View on Credit."

In granting credit, banks take into consideration the balance sheet, character, capacity and capital of the firm making application, the speaker stated. The character, capacity and capital of individuals seeking credit are also reviewed.

Mr. Law strongly advised that every customer should be treated to be punctual, and, as a sound economic principle, should liquidate his account also, as a proof of his capacity to pay.

"Every dollar of credit given is borrowed from your own working capital and, therefore, should always represent dollar for dollar," the speaker pointed out.

"Credit is an intangible thing, it is one of your greatest business assets," he continued. "In everything, take your banker into your fullest confidence. No one would dream of consulting a doctor without disclosing all the symptoms of his ailment and following out thereafter the cure prescribed, and the same is true of consulting the financial doctor."

In closing, Mr. Law told of an interesting experience of a friend who learned the truth of the saying, "punctuality and attendance to business pay big dividends."
